

Title	La Vie Parisienne
Author	Janelle McCulloch
ISBN	9781741960822
Imprint	Pier 9
Binding	Paperback with jacket
Extent	240 pages
Dimensions	210 x 140mm
RRP	$29.95
Release Date	April 2008

Afterwards, if it's warm, I'll make my way through Hemingway and Fitzgerald's old neighbourhood near the St. Suplice to the Jardin de Luxembourg and its parterres of pistachio green chairs for a stroll among the statues. Or join other flavour-obsessed habitués at the atmospheric organic market on leafy Boulevard Raspail, where string bags are filled with dewy pears, tiny limes, bundles of fresh basil and thyme, heirloom tomatoes, sleek leeks and elegant asparagus stalks so chic they could be Kate Moss of the potager model agency.

Description

After an ill-fated affair with the Queen Mother's equerry, a young London-based Australian journalist, Janelle McCulloch, runs away to Paris to restore her pride. The city leaves an indelible print and she returns many years later to live there for a year.

La Vie Parisienne: Looking for Love – and the Perfect Lingerie captures Janelle's experiences that year, immersed in life in Paris. An acute observer of Parisienne style in action, Janelle set off to re-invent herself and in the process, discovered she was very comfortable in her own skin. Janelle's account is warm, honest, funny and at times, poignant and tender.

Sales Points

- A vivid account of a year in Paris, beautifully written with a strong narrative drive and a personal and engaging style
- Focuses on the style, glamour and romance to be found in this most seductive of cities
- Will appeal to readers who loved books such as Almost French and When in Rome
- Stunning, impossible-to-resist package with flocking on the cover, gorgeous photographs and jacketed paperback format
- A2 poster available (ISBN: 9787777003045)
- Advance reading copies available

Author Profile

Janelle McCulloch has been a journalist for more than 12 years, both in Australia and Europe, and has worked as a travel writer, a fashion and beauty editor, an interiors editor, a magazine editor and a columnist. Now specialising in design, architecture, travel and style, she has contributed to many well-known publications in Australia and overseas, including Vogue Living, Elle, Home Beautiful and Sunday Life. She divides her time between Melbourne, Europe and any island she can manage to reach in between. This is her third book.