The riveting, sometimes hilarious, often nerve-wracking tale of an Australian man's determination to provide a rare glimpse into the world of the Pashtun people of Pakistan

This new edition of Warrior Poets by Benjamin Gilmour will be published on 1st May 2009

Benjamin Gilmour has been a guest at Brisbane and Perth Writers' Festivals and will also be a guest at the Sydney Writers' Festival in May 2009

Australian Benjamin Gilmour travelled to Pakistan determined to shoot a film on its wild frontier. He had never made a movie before and it was illegal and extremely dangerous for him to do so in the region. But Benjamin was driven by his passion for the Pashtun people of the North West Frontier Province and for the remarkable gun-making town of Darra Adam Khel. This book is the behind-the-scenes account of the highly-acclaimed film, Son of a Lion, but it is much more than just a 'making-of'. Benjamin tells the compelling story of a country with an amazing and rich culture, and of the proud and loyal people who befriended him.

'Warrior Poets is a new literary genre' - The Sydney Morning Herald

"Son of a Lion' is impressively clear-sighted and compassionate' – Edinburgh International Film Festival

'This page-turning book could be a film in itself' - The Sydney Morning Herald
